

Discussion (not as volcanology-related)

- Bugiolacchi and Guest use craters >500m in their crater counting statistics, and avoid obvious secondary craters. Is this size still too small to obtain an accurate count (or is it still skewed by secondaries)?
- Apparent bimodal distribution of  $\text{TiO}_2$