

Fig. S2. Euler angle distributions for the three reconstructions. The relative intensity of each dot indicates the number of particles in that orientation (class). The highest and lowest numbers of particles represented are shown. This figure was generated by the eman program in the EMAN software package.