

Significant Network Differences

Twitter topic detection is designed for discovering emerging popular topics

But are popular topics important ones?

Do popular topics within a network of domain experts mean those topics are important?