

Figure 6. Time series from BTM showing passage of a second baroclinic mode eddy in July 1995 showing nutrient injection into the euphotic layer, and extremely high levels of chlorophyll (and primary production). Inertial oscillations are also evident.